Cumberland.

Brunswick plains are now covered with people engaged in gathering blueberries. The hay harvest having been secured, whole families now come in teams bringing their luncheons with them, and devote the entire day to plucking these delicious berries, the extensive plains presenting the general appearance of a vast muster field. The yield of these berries is less than usual, on account of the long continued and severe drouth.

The Press says: One of the officers of a Portland morning paper who resides in the town of Deering has been much annoyed of late by stray cats who persisted in holding concerts in his back yard. Thursday night, after getting all day to find a weak spot in the Fair State Convention held by the Republicans, the young man retired to rest, but not to sleep for the cats insisted upon tendering him a serenade whether he would or no. After standing the racket as long as possible he arose and taking down a trusty old shot gun blazed away in the direction of the noise. A cry from a passer by attracted his attention and upon investigation it was discovered that the shot intended for the cats had passed through the seat of a carriage which was passing at the time, and in which was seated a well known Deering young lady. The editor was very much frightened but when the extent of the injury was discovered he calmed down. He now swears that he is all done guessing for cats.

Franklin.

Mrs. Sally Ames of East Farmington, who is ninety-three years old, last Saturday walked up the Perham Hill, one half mile, made a visit, and walked again to the residence of her son, Mr. Albert Ames. Mrs. Ames has made an application for a pension for the services of her husband in the war of 1812.

Mr. Sidney Dyke of Wilton, while at work in the hay field last week, thrust a blood vessel in his leg, which had formerly given him some trouble from enlarged veins. He was obliged to keep home in a weak condition from the loss of blood.

Mr. Wesley Richardson accidentally shot a ball from his revolver into his right thigh, the 23d inst. The ball passed down about five inches, and lodged just above the knee joint. The ball was removed and he is getting along well.

Kennebec.

The Journal says that Mrs. Charles Wentworth, of Gardiner, while walking on the street with a babe in her arms, fell from the sidewalk and broke her leg.

The Gardiner Journal says it was estimated last winter, that there were 90,000 tons of ice put up in Maine---of this 70,000 on the Kennebec and tributaries. Most of the ice outside of the Kennebec has been shipped. There is now left on the river, about 375,000 tons, including the Kaiskeag Co.'s and all other companies putting up ice for their own use. There are about 26 different slips loading at each ship. There are about 100,000 tons not yet sold.

The Johnson Woolen Co., at Waynes have put in a Hunt and Waite turbine water-wheel, with which they are much pleased. They have also recently set up two of Knowles' patent looms for weaving fancy cassimeres.

The summer term of school at Wayne village taught by Miss Jennie Thorne closed on Friday the 16th inst., with a public examination. Quite a large number of the parents and friends were present who manifested much interest and expressed great pleasure with the progress made. Miss Thorne is a young teacher, but she is first-class and destined to be one of the best.

The Readfield Woolen Company under the new management are doing a very brisk business, orders coming in as fast as they can be filled. The company has now manufacturing a very superior quality of goods, and as their reputation stands high in the woolen market they have no difficulty in securing customers.

Mr. Samuel Guild of Augusta, has 60 acres and a half of spring wheat which he is cutting this week. He will get sixty-eight tons of hay from fifty acres this year; last year from same territory he cut fifty-six tons.

Mr. George R. Weeks of Augusta, has shipped this season thirty-five cargoes of ice, consuming fourteen thousand tons; he still has nineteen thousand tons to ship.

A fine, substantial picket fence is in process of construction around Forest Grove Cemetery, at Augusta, with two entrances, one on Winthrop street, and one on Green street. These entrances consist of a driveway with walks upon either side, each separated and bound by massive granite posts, surmounted with caps, and with iron gates. The contractors for this work have been under the charge of Mr. Hiram Ellis, and the lettering and figuring upon the posts, in honor of Mr. William R. Smith, Mr. Hiram Williams's time to do that day, was a necessity. At first somebody started this work by giving four hundred dollars. Some fifty-six hundred dollars have been obtained, which is over and above the expense of the lettering and figuring, the grounds, under the direction of Col. Thomas Rumbrell.

The Journal says: On Tuesday, as we rode up the Horseshoe, we noticed a large number of vessels in the river engaged in the ice business---either loading, waiting for the opportunity to load, or being drawn down the river by tugs, pushed steam tugs. The channel is kept open by the steamer Sarah Bradbury, which passes back and forth between South Gardiner and the Gardiner Bridge. At this rate the ice on the Kennebec will soon be all disposed of. The dealers in New Orleans, taking advantage of the provisions of Yellow Fever there, have raised the price of ice from $30 to $40 per ton, these figures are upon the merchants and dealers of the community. At any rate, $1.50 per ton at the houses here, but looks like a handsome little profit, and would be if the transaction was not simply damnable.

The manager of the base ball club in Augusta, has received a letter from Halifax, Nova Scotia, stating that the Resolutes of that city have challenged four of Maine's crack nine to play with the Reds at Augusta some time next month. Farmers in Liberty are a good deal hurried. The crop is large and well secured. Crops of all kinds never looked better and never grew faster. Mr. R. O. Knowlton's cow escaped from him about three weeks ago, and is now running wild in the woods, about two miles from his pasture. Several attempts at capture have been made by large parties of men and boys, but she cannot be caught. She goes eye, all fenges, like a deer.

A son of Wm. M. Rolf, two years old, came near being drowned in the mill pond at Burnham, Monday last. His mother, hearing his cries, left her bed and an infant ten days old and went to his rescue. In reaching for him from a log, she fell in and got a thorough wetting. Both would have been drowned had they not have been rescued by a lady living near the pond.

The Journal says: We have before mentioned the remarkable passage of the brig Ned Wight, Capt. Geo. S. Thomas of Bangor, from New York to Adelaide, Australia. It was accomplished in eighty-six days, and is one of the quickest, if not the very quickest, time ever made by a sailing vessel from New York to Australia. A letter from the captain states that the vessel left New York March 4th, and had pleasant weather to the Cape of Good Hope, which was passed on April 24th. After entering the Indian ocean heavy westerly gales were encountered, and for eight consecutive days the vessel was driven before the hurricane at terrific speed, making on that time the following daily miles respectively---276, 257, 248, 257, 242, 220, 236, and 235, or in the aggregate for eight days 1931 miles. The Ned Wight will go to Sidney for a cargo.

A little girl, six years of age, daughter of Susan Stevens, was at play on one of the railroad cuts above the bridge at Belfast, on Saturday, when a large stone, loosened by the heavy shower, rolled down the embankment and struck the child, inflicting severe wounds upon her lower limbs. The services of a surgeon were required.

Thursday, Alonzo, son of Capt. Joseph W. Sawyer, of Milbridge, was seriously injured. He was riding on a load of lumber, and in going down a hill the harness gave out and the horse became unmanageable. The wagon was turned over and the boy was found under the lumber. He was taken up for dead, but soon showed signs of life. It is hoped the injury will not prove fatal.

Blueberries are very abundant. Large quantities are shipped to Boston and Portland by steamer Newiston each trip. The stores are well supplied and they can be obtained at a low price. The work of canning has already commenced at the several factories. The yield of the blueberry plains this year is two townships, will fall but little short of $100,000. Wm. Freeman, Jr., Esq., of Cherryfield is a large owner of land where blueberries are picked, and he receives a royalty from the adjoining pastures, but allows the citizens to gather all they please for their own use, or to sell at the stores. The Court settled the question several years ago. Mr. Freeman receives quite an income. Wm. Freeman, Sen., 95 years old, is in feeble health. He is well known in this State as an able lawyer, an earnest advocate, and popular orator and poet.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

Mr. Mung Ardino, an agent of the British and Foreign Bible Society, has been sidetracked to death at Recife Ayres for selling Bibles.

Of the seventy-seven members of the class which was graduated at Amherst College this year sixty-one are members of some church, and fifty-two of Congregational churches. Fifteen have chosen the ministry as their life-work.

The Chinese Tract Society, organized on the principles of the American Tract Society, has been formed in Shanghae. Its board of managers is to be half of foreign missionaries and half of native Christians.

Rev. A. C. Herrick, who is to resume his place as principal of Hebron Academy next term, will continue to supply the pulpit of the Baptist church at Freeport.

Rev. J. O. Skinner, of Augusta, who it will be remembered has been for some time prostrated by paralysis, still continues to slowly decline in strength, ending the case of his various faculties.

The General Baptist Association (colored) of Virginia, has established a Foreign Mission Board in Richmond, Va., and resolved to send a missionary at once to Africa.

Rev Alfred L. Hutton, of the Maine Street Methodist church of Paterson, N. J. has recently become a Baptist, and was immersed by Rev M C. Lockwood on the 7th inst.

An organ has been placed in the church at Kingfield, which was much needed to aid in singing. A praise service was holden at the church, Sunday, 5 P. M., conducted by Rev. E. S. Stackpole, assisted by Miss Lizzie Winter as organist. The service was enjoyed by young and old. It consisted of songs of praise, interspersed with reading and repeating passages of scripture suitable for the occasion.

Jay Gould

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. The most reliable authority on Wall street positively denies that the most reports circulated, as calculated to interest of the bears, that Jay Gould has been crippled by the heavy decline in stocks and also the report that he declined to pay money on call, owing to any recovery of money recovered between Gould and the directors of the street. Gould has been considerable by these stories, but is confident that he will still worth from fifty to one million, and is prepared for sharp and aggressive action at any moment.

The Stock Market.

In addition to the stock speculation the past week is a matter for congratulation that the main items of the business world fall on its ordinary basis. Those who could their money he will lose, and who can afford to lose what may be considered a great fortune in any legitimate business. There has also been wiped out large amounts of profits on paper which have been accepted during the last year, but which could not be converted into cash because it was their real profits which had accrued there are thousands still further anywhere. This list of losses has been borne by speculators capable of carrying 500,000 to 10,000,000 shares of stocks. Men who do no trade for on long terms but are willing to carry a few of stocks for months or a year, provided they think the ultimate profit will pay them.

Kearney and Ben Butler.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. An interview with John Kelly, Tammany magnate, to-day he stated it as the effect of Kearney and Ben Butler upon either the Democratic or Republican parties of this city or the State, will not amount to anything. The Special Treasury Agents.

The Herald's Washington despatch says that it is understood at the Treasury Department that it is object of assigning Mr. Curtis to duty as special agent of the Treasury in New York, is to carry into practical effect a long neglected order making the special agent the direct representative of the Secretary of the Treasury with supervisory authority over the accounts and books of the Collector, Naval Officer, Surveyor, and in fact over the entire force of collections revenue officials at that port. The Department does not recognize it as the duty of the special agent to be acting or playing a detective or inquisitorial. Wells Williams late Secretary of Legation, as having done much during his stay in China, to bring about the present amicable relations existing between the two nations. He says much to the future to further increase this sentiment.

The establishment of the Embassy at Washington would bring the two peoples into closer commercial relations, giving the United States advantages heretofore more largely enjoyed by other Nations. Although the Federal, State and municipal authorities have paid the Embassy no official courtesies they have been recipients of attentions from many prominent citizens.

Debate on Mantegazza's Resignation.

LONDON, Aug. 2. In the Commons this afternoon, the debate of Sering-on's resolution was resumed Northcote replying Fawcett said he could not pro ise the reforms proposed in Asia and Turkey, and the guarantees for their execution, which ought to be agreed upon, should be submitted to Parliament now ready for its sanction Fawcett then gave notice that he would introduce a resolution declaring such a prior submission to the Commons as necessary.

Harrington's Resolution Rejected.

LONDON, Aug. 2. Lord Harington's resolution was rejected in the Lords to night by a vote o' 203 to 108 and Mr. Fitzke's amendmen. was adopted without a division.

The Debate in Commons

In Commons bir Wm. Vernon Harcourt, Liberal, declared that he thought the Government was insincere that it had to help whatever, that any danger was to be apprehended from Russia in Asia Minor, but that it wanted a pretext for acquiring Cyprus.

Dr. Lush Fast, Liberal and Major Dalle, conservative filat he would support the Government.

Sir Wilfred Lawson, Radical member for Carlisle, expressed surprise that Fawcett's vote of confidence was not more strongly worded to obtain a definite desis on before the dissolution of Parliament, which was imminent.

Sir Stafford Northcote, then said that in regard to the prerogative of Lord Salisbury the Government had acted strictly in accordance with the precedent. He pointed out that it was unfair for Lord Mayo ton to compare the treaty of Berlin with that of 1856, because the independence and integrity of Turkey had been guaranteed by the treaty of San Stefano. The Government had succeeded in restoring much of Turkey's independence and integrity though after the results of the war it was impossible to insist upon their maintenance as declared by the treaty of 1878.

He entered into a detailed refutation of Mr. Gladstone's statements in regard to the attitude of the British Plenipotentiaries at the Congress. The Government had every confidence in their action in making the treaty with Turkey, which would have been so much overwhelming power In regard to the Anglo-Turkish Convention, he said it was necessary to prevent Russia, undermining the British influence in Asia Minor and money was necessary for speedy reforms The policy of the Government, he said was an equitable one, and if the intervention of any other power was necessary, although he admitted it was, still true that there had been confidential communications.

In conclusion, he maintained that it was the duty and interest of England to maintain Turkey in as strong a position as practicable.

Lord Hartington briefly replied, closing the debate. The House was then divided on the resolution, and it was rejected by a vote of 135 affirmative to 336 negative. The announcement of the vote was greeted with loud and prolonged cheering. The amendment, moved by Hon. Randall Plunkett, as a vote of confidence, was then adopted without a division.

ST. NICHOLAS.

SCRIBNER'S ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE FOR GIRLS AND BOYS.

THE LONDON ACADEMY of December 28th, 1877, says "To ST NICHOLAS we welcome the first signs of genuine literature that we have yet seen. . . . Literature and art are combined in the best form for young people, and the pictures help literature to enjoyment."

In ST. NICHOLAS for December, the Grand Christmas Number, was begun a charming new

Serial Story by Miss Alcott

"Under he Lilacs," illustrated by Mary Hallock Foote, to continue during the year. This same Christmas number, of which one hundred thousand copies were printed, contained the opening chapters of a "BOSTON CRUISER" STORY for boys, "Tower-Mountain," by Gustavus Fahnestock, also poems by Longfellow and Bryant, a portrait of Miss Alcott, half a dozen short stories, pictures without end, and a table of contents of unusual number of a child's magazine ever issued.

The NEW YORK TRIBUNE says:

"ST. NICHOLAS has a list of contributors such as no other child's, magazine, or few publications of any sort, in the world can boast. It has caused the best writers in America to turn their attention to the task of giving delight and edification to the boys and children. In the avalanche of immoral literature that threatens the children, some strong, vitally wholesome, and really attractive magazine is required for them, and ST. NICHOLAS has reached a higher platform, and commands for this service wider resources in art and letters, than any of its predecessors or contemporaries."

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1878,

Besides the Serial Stories above announced, will have a short serial story by the author of "The Schonberg-Cotta Family," entitled "Five Puppets' Serials for Boys, one of which, "Five Puppets' Hero," by Edwin Hodder, an English writer, will begin in March. "Around the world in a Yacht, Boys!" has been promised by a brilliant writer, now sailing around the world in his own yacht. There will be contributions by a daughter of the famous Peter Parley, and a Letter to Young Americans by

GEORGE MACDONALD.

The "HOW" Series of instructive papers, by various authors, will tell HOW to blow your own boats; HOW they make coal; HOW to enjoy yourselves at home; HOW to be an agreeable guest; HOW to entertain company; HOW to be a carpenter; HOW to make an ice-boat; HOW to build a house; How Indis rubber is gathered; HOW matches are made; HOW to be a Parlor Magician; HOW money is made; HOW mackerel are caught; HOW they laid the Atlantic cable; HOW they mine in California; HOW they work in the tea-country; etc. There will be also a series of stories and sketches of Foreign Life.

TRAVEL AND ADVENTURE,

such as "Old Nimbie!" (a Russian story), "A Day among the Welsh Castles," "Easter in Germany," "The Indians of the Arrow," "How Kitty was lost in a Turkish Bath," "Master Montezuma" (a Mexican story), "Hanza, the Lapp Maiden," and many others.

"Jack-in-the-Pulpit," "Young contributors' Department," "Letter-Box," "Riddle Box," and "For Very Little Folks," will be continued.
